Patio Doors

More light, less maintenance...

Patio doors open up any room allowing natural light to flood in. They take up very little floor area, and don't intrude into your room or garden. The opening doors slide behind the fixed glass panels, which allows more flexibility for furniture and creates more space than other styles of door.

Our stylish PVCu patio doors have the latest security hardware and are virtually maintenance free.

Our doors are available in white as standard but can be painted almost any colour, plus we offer a number of both modern and traditional woodgrain effect foil finishes.

Security

All our patio doors are fitted with multi-point locks and anti-lift systems. Shoot bolt locking options are available on most doors to allow the door to lock at a slightly open position to provide ventilation.

The standard specification multi-point lock has six bi-directional hooks with a dead bolt. All patios are fitted with Yale anti-pick and anti-drill cylinders. An upgrade to our Magnum cylinder also features anti-bump and anti-snap technology for ultimate security.

Reliable Yale locks

Our Yale locks and keeps have been independently tested for 100,000 operating cycles. The exclusive Deltaseal coating gives 1000 hours of salt spray protection, four times longer than most other patio door locks.

“Secured by Design”

For extra reassurance, you can order your doors manufactured to comply with this exacting Police Preferred Specification. Our premium range of Elegance patio doors have undergone extensive testing to meet SBD standards, exceeding the requirements of the British Board of Agrément certification for enhanced security.

Ultra low maintenance

PVCu frames will not rot and never need sanding and painting like timber. Even the hardware we fit is virtually maintenance free.

Durable and easy to use

Thanks to superior manufacturing and installation techniques, our patio doors always glide open effortlessly. The base track and rollers are made of stainless steel which means they will not corrode and will continue to operate perfectly for many years.

Design options

Every door is made to measure and will fit openings up to a maximum of 2.4 metres high and 5.9 metres wide. They are available in 2, 3 or 4 panels, and can be opened from either the left or right hand side. On 4 panel doors only, doors open from the centre out to the left and right. Sliding door panels can be specified to slide on internal or external tracks.

Weather-proof and energy efficient

Our patio doors are fitted with the latest weatherseals and draught excluders. We can also offer patio doors which meet the rigorous PAS 23 and 24 test standards. They are compatible with the full range of energy efficient glass currently available and we will be happy to advise you on achieving the best possible thermal efficiency.

Exclusive handle design

The handle is critical on any door, so we created our own contemporary design, in a range of finishes. Where requested, white, gold and chrome handles can have a RESISTA coating with a 10 year warranty on the finish.

Colours and finishes

Bright white frames look good in most properties but you can also choose from a range of natural looking woodgrain options. We also offer a range of RAL colours to special order. The colours we show here are representative only.

Low threshold options

Where you need a lower threshold for aesthetics or easier access, the standard PVCu outerframe is replaced by one of two aluminium low threshold options. We offer an external weathered threshold at 32mm high, which can be made suitable for wheelchair access, or a 9mm low threshold that should only be fitted as an internal room divider inside a property, as it is not weathered.
